

Online Ethics Center
FOR ENGINEERING AND SCIENCE

Social Injustice, Disparities in COVID-19 Health Care Delivery

Author(s)

Paloma Beamer
Karletta Chief
Monica Peek
Lisa Lee
Cato Laurencin

Year

2020

Description

In this webinar series, Dr. Rosalyn Berne, Director of the OEC, hosts a conversation between a panel of expert speakers on COVID-19 and the social injustices surrounding the pandemic.

In partnership with the Engineering Ethics Division, American Association of Engineering Ethics (ASEE) and the Association for Practical and Professional Ethics (APPE).

Body

The panel includes:

Paloma Beamer, Associate Professor, Community, Environment, & Policy
Department, University of Arizona

Karletta Chief, Associate Professor, Department of Environmental Science, University of Arizona

Monica Peek, Professor of Medicine, University of Chicago

Lisa Lee, Associate Vice President for Scholarly Integrity and Research Compliance, Virginia Tech

Cato Laurencin, University Professor and Van Dusen Distinguished Endowed Professor, University of Connecticut

```
{"preview_thumbnail":"/sites/onlineethics/files/styles/video_embed_wysiwyg_preview/public/v euyQRW","video_url":"https://youtu.be/RGxHMIFqbZI","settings":{"responsive":0,"width":"580
Video (580x315)."}]}
```

Rights

Use of Materials on the OEC

Resource Type

Multimedia

Parent Collection

OEC Webinars

Topics

Public Health and Safety

Vulnerable Populations

Social Justice

Diversity

Diversity in Research Design and Practice

Discipline(s)

Social Justice, Equity and Inclusion

Life and Environmental Sciences

Public Health

Publisher

Online Ethics Center