

Online Ethics Center
FOR ENGINEERING AND SCIENCE

Advancing the Use of Professional Decision-Making Strategies in a Culturally Diverse Research Community

Author(s)

Tristan McIntosh
Alison Antes

Year

2021

Description

This project uses a qualitative approach to identify similarities and differences in professional decision-making strategies among East Asian and U.S. researchers, with the goal of creating a culturally inclusive RCR course.

Body

```
{"preview_thumbnail":"/sites/onlineethics/files/styles/video_embed_wysiwyg_preview/public/vRnhMUVs","video_url":"https://youtu.be/auWHncJZHkw","settings":{"responsive":1,"width":"8Video (Responsive)."]}
```

Rights

Use of Materials on the OEC

Resource Type

Multimedia

Parent Collection

ER2 Lightning Talks

Topics

Teaching Ethics

Cultural Awareness and Sensitivity

Discipline(s)

Research Ethics

Teaching Ethics in STEM

International Perspectives

Publisher

Online Ethics Center