

Online Ethics Center
FOR ENGINEERING AND SCIENCE

The Mysterious Relationship of Technology and Ethics

Author(s)

Ed Freeman

Year

2025

Body

This talk will try to understand how the processes for ethical decision making and technological development often move on different timescales. This results in potential conflicts, bad conversations, and political chaos. Frameworks from stakeholder theory and ethics will be examined to suggest several ways out of the quagmire. Examples from businesses representing important technological change will be scrutinized.

Rights

Use of Materials on the OEC

Parent Collection

OEC Webinars

Topics

Ethics and Society

Workplace Ethics

Emerging Technologies

Employer/Employee Relationships

Ethical Decision-Making

Discipline(s)

Science and Technology Studies
Social Justice, Equity and Inclusion
Social and Behavioral Sciences
Economics
Sociology